Famous Hotels, City Water and Supply Plants All Destroyed—The Flames Burn Themselves Out.

BUILDINGS DYNAMITED IN PATH OF THE FLAMES

Famous Arkansas Watering Place in Danger of Being Completely Wiped Off the Map—Call Sent for Help.

Hot Springs, Ark., September 5.—Fire which started in a negro's cabin at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon is slowly dying out at the foot of West Mountain, the southern extremity of Hot Springs, at midnight after reducing to a smouldering mass of wreckage on area more than a mile in length and from even to ten blocks wide in the eastern section of the city. An accurate statement of the monetary loss is not possible tonight, but is roughly estimated at ten million dollars.

Governor Hays arrived in Hot Springs late tonight and will probably order a military patrol of the burned district tomorrow morning. United States troops are also expected from Little Rock to add to the guard on the military reservation.

In the path of the flames were manufacturing establishments, hotels, a number of the more pretentious residences and public buildings. All were destroyed.

It is estimated that two thousand persons are homeless.

Valuables Lost in Flames.

But few of those whose homes were burned saved any of their belongings and guests of the hotels gave little heed to their valuables and luggage in their efforts to escape with their lives.

A police patrol of 250 men were sworn in to patrol the fire swept district. So far there has been no disorder. All the homeless have been cared for temporarily and plans have been started to systematize the work of succor tomorrow. Many offers of assistance in fire fighting apparatus, financial aid, food and clothing have been received but it is believed that outside aid will not be needed.

Business was practically suspended tonight except that necessary to provide for the immediate wants of those who suffered the loss of their homes. The lack of light and power prevented the operation of the street car system, the publication of newspapers and other industries depending on motive power from the city's plant.

Utilities Suspended for Month.

General Manager Dillon, of the public utilities commission, states that a temporary light and power service will be established within thirty days and in three months the utilities will be working to their capacity again. The natural gas supply was not interfered with.

More than thirty square blocks on the eastern edge of the business district had been swept clean at 9 o'clock tonight by the fire, which, at that hour, threatened to eat its way toward Central avenue, the main business thoroughfare. A high wind was blowing and the Hot Springs and Little Rock fire departments, the latter hurried to this city aboard special trains, have made but little headway in checking the flames.

Sidney Dillon, commissioner of public utility, estimated that at least $4,000,000 of property had been destroyed.

Originated in Negro Dwelling.

The fire originated in a negro dwelling on Church street, near Mulvern avenue, just east of the Army and Navy hospital, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon and spread quickly to the south and east. A number of small dwellings, dry as tinder, as a result of an extended drought, were easy prey for the flames, which, within a few minutes were beyond control of the local fire department.

From this region the fire spread to a manufacturing section, then to a

CAMINETTI GUILTY, BUT ONLY ON ONE OUT OF 4 COUNTS

Jury Was Tied Up for Three Hours Before the Compromise Verdict Was Finally Reached.

GETS OFF MUCH LIGHTER THAN DID MAURY DIGGS

Maximum Sentence for the Count on Which Caminetti Was Convicted Is 5 Years and Fine of $5,000.

San Francisco, September 5.—Farley Drew Caminetti, son of the commissioner general of immigration, was found guilty late today on one count of the indictment charging him with violation of the Mann white slave act.

The jury was out three hours, and took eight ballots. From the first vote stood ten to two for conviction, and finally the two recalcitrants agreed to compromise by finding a verdict of guilty on one of the four counts charged.

Ball in the sum of $10,000 was furnished. Sentence will be pronounced Wednesday, September 10, the day set for sentencing Maury I. Diggs, jointly indicted with Caminetti and convicted on four counts.

Exceptions to the charge of Judge Van Fleet, as a whole and in part, were taken by counsel in the case of Diggs. Caminetti took the verdict lightly, smiling a forced smile and nudging his brother jocularly. First he lifted his little daughter, Naomi, who was playing at his feet, and placed her carefully in her mother's lap. Then he shook hands with his lawyers and with Diggs, who had been sitting nearby. His mother and wife showed no emotion.

Caminetti Gets Off Light.

Caminetti and Maury I. Diggs, former state architect of California, were jointly indicted on six counts, and Diggs was found guilty on four of them, the jury being unable to agree on the other two. Because of the special circumstances surrounding Caminetti's individual part in the flight from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., with Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris, the government elected in the second trial to press only four counts.

The first two counts charged that he transported and aided in transporting the two young women from Sacramento to Reno in violation of the Mann act.

One count applied to each girl, and each count carried a maximum penalty of five years in a federal penitentiary and $5,000 fine.

Five Years Maximum Sentence.

Thus Diggs is liable to a maximum of twenty years imprisonment and $20,000 fine, and Caminetti to five years and $5,000 fine.

The verdicts correspond with the contention of the government, which was that Diggs was the self-constituted boss and major dome of the party and Caminetti more or less of a passive and pliant agent.

The second two counts charged that Caminetti "persuaded and aided in persuading, inducing and enticing" the two girls to go, and here again one count applied to each girl.

The finding of the jury was that Caminetti was guilty on the single count of transporting and aiding in transporting Lola Norris to Reno for immoral purposes. It did not consider him responsible for Marsha Warrington's elopement with Diggs, and it refused to believe that Miss Norris had been enticed into going.

Indictments Still Pending.

There remained over the heads of both Diggs and Caminetti indictments charging conspiracy to violate the act, and Diggs has still a third indictment hanging over him.

With Charles B. Harris, of Sacramento, his former attorney, he is accused of subornation of perjury. Nellie Barton, a friend of Marsha Warrington, testified during the Diggs trial that Harris and Diggs had coached her in testimony, which she in turn was to drill Marsha Warrington for use on behalf of Diggs.

The perjury trial will be called before Judge Van Fleet on Wednesday.

COUP BY ATTORNEYS SAVES HARRY THAW FROM DEPORTATION

Writ Secured From Montreal Judge Stops Execution of Order of Special Board of Inquiry.

WRIT WILL BE HEARD IN MONTREAL ON 15TH

Sensations Come Quick and Fast in Thaw Case During Friday—Jerome Is Arrested on Charge of Gambling.

Coaticook, Quebec, September 5.—Harry K. Thaw will be produced before the full king's bench, appeal side, at Montreal on the morning of September 15. Two of his counsel, J. N. Greenhalgh and N. K. LaFlamme, today obtained a double writ—habeas corpus and prohibition—at Montreal and whirled in a special train to Coaticook, where not long before the immigration authorities had ordered Thaw's deportation from the Dominion.

There were cheers when the writ arrived and more cheers whenever Thaw appeared at the window of the detention room. There was more cheering when the news got abroad that for Thaw the new move meant ten days' delay. Not only by the writ secured in Montreal, but by the action of his attorneys on appeal did Thaw today block his deportation. In addition, he had the pleasurable knowledge that his old enemy, William Travers Jerome, had been arrested, charged with gambling.

If ever a little town produced "sensations," Coaticook did today. First came Jerome's arrest and release on bail on a charge that he had played poker yesterday on railroad property with some newspaper men. Then came word that Thaw's lawyers had obtained in Montreal the writ demanding his production in court there.

Deportation Ordered.

Meantime the special board of inquiry ordered Thaw's deportation to Vermont under two classes of the immigration act, namely: that he had entered Canada by stealth and had, within five years, been an inmate of an institution for the insane. From both these decisions, Thaw's lawyers appealed.

Jerome's arrest was not prompted in any way by the Thaw lawyers. One and all they expressed indignation at the move and said they were ready to aid him. The arrest really signifies that the state of public opinion here is decidedly pro-Thaw and more decidedly anti-Jerome. Another factor is a split in the town council, where Chief of Police John Boudreau, Thaw's original captor and subsequent petitioner for the writ of habeas corpus, which forced Thaw out of jail at Sherbrooke into the hands of the immigration authorities.

Some of the aldermen contend that Boudreau was influenced and acted unwisely in the habeas corpus matter and should resign. Among his opponents is A. A. Hopkins, chairman of the police committee of the council. Hopkins expressed in his grist mill Milford Aldrich, the complainant against Jerome. Aldrich says he acted as a zealous citizen and his contention was sustained by A. C. Hanson, just crown prosecutor, who caused the warrant to be issued.

"We were shocked," said Hanson, "to see Mr. Jerome playing cards for money in public and it was our duty to arrest him. Little children saw him and were talking about it. We have never had an arrest of his kind here. If Jerome tries to leave this jurisdiction he will be arrested."

Jerome Leaves Town.

Mr. Jerome left town in his automobile this afternoon. It was expected that an order to stop the White

CANADIAN CROWDS CHEER THAW AS HE ENTER COURT TO FIGHT BEING DEPORTED

When Harry K. Thaw was taken from the county jail at Sherbrooke, Canada, to the courthouse, where he fought against being turned over to the immigration authorities, crowds of Canadians thronged the sidewalk in front of the courthouse and the steps of the building. They cheered Thaw as he entered and waved their hats. They seemed to be with him to a man in his fight against the New York lawyers who tried to have him handed over to the immigration authorities so that he could be deported to the United States. Thaw was serious as Governor La Force, warden of the jail, conducted him to the courtroom, paying little heed to the cheering, for he was downcast over his prospects of further avoiding deportation.

ROAD RESPONSIBLE FOR WRECK HORROR

Testimony in the New Haven Railroad Investigation Shows That Road Knew Its System Was Faulty.

New Haven, Conn., September 5.—The so-called "banjo" signal system installed on the New Haven railroad nearly 25 years ago, was charged in sworn testimony today with responsibility for the death of twenty-one persons in the wreck on that road last Tuesday. The testimony was given at the Interstate Commerce Commission's inquiry to determine the causes of the disaster.

The "banjo system" was admitted by officers of the road to be inferior to up-to-date systems in use on other roads. Lacking a "caution" signal as protection against a danger signal, as in modern systems, the "banjo" type, according to half a dozen trainmen, caused engineers to "drift by" their signals in foggy weather before they could stop their trains.

Such was the reason for the New Haven wreck, according to Engineer August B. Miller, who was at the "banjo" locomotive of the White Mountain express when it plunged into the rear of the Bar Harbor express on the fatal Tuesday morning. Train shoots introduced in evidence today, however, showed that Miller's train was speeding over 51 miles an hour.

Protest Made by Engineers.

More than a year ago the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers protested against the "banjo" system as not offering sufficient protection, and asked that it be abolished. Correspondence to this effect was placed in evidence.

That an order to stop the White

BIGGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF THE SOUTHERN LEAGUE SAW YESTERDAY'S GAMES

By Ralph Jones.

Paid attendance, 12,140.
Total attendance, 12,812.
Total number of people in Ponce de Leon ball grounds—nobody will ever know.

That sums up the results of yesterday's games from an attendance standpoint. But the above figures don't come near showing how many people actually saw the games. The only possible source of information is the statekeepers' official figures, and there were many who saw the game from inside the grounds who never passed that stern custodian at all.

Long before the first game started the tops of the fences around the field were covered with human sparrows, who perched as thick as their ingenuity could accomplish.

Many in Field.

Soon the fences began to give way beneath the load, and as fast as a gap appeared the crowd would come through unchecked. There were undoubtedly several thousand who gained admittance this way. Then it was "Ladies' day," too, and the fair fans were there in goodly numbers.

All told, there were fully 15,000 people who saw the game, and never before has there been witnessed such a scene in the entire history of the Southern league. It would take the pen of a Stevenson to describe it, and sagas and epic poems are the only forms of literature which could do the subject justice.

The chamber of commerce sent a card around to all their members early in the day, requesting that as many as possible close their places of business, or at least let as many of their employees off for the afternoon as possible. Then a number of the most frantic fans raised a subscription to take a band out to the game, and while the music was mostly lost beneath the overwhelming waves of sound that the crowd made, still they were there, and added their full quota to the rooting.

Crowd From Athens.

Just as the game was starting the delegation of Athens fans, who had come on a special excursion to see the game, arrived and filled a block of 200 seats in all Atlanta's automobile supply houses and, with the aid of a cowbell, proceeded to bring forth weird encouragement for the home team. Then the megaphones, horns, bells, whistles and drums. Were they there? Considerably.

It was some crowd. But what's the use? Everybody was there, so why talk about it?

But to return to cold figures. Yesterday hung up a new record for attendance in 1912, when they won the record of 11,152 was made in 1907, at an Atlanta-Memphis game, when Atlanta won the pennant.

Attendance figures for the season give Atlanta 183,871. The record for a season's attendance is 197,090, made by Atlanta in 1907.

Incidentally, Birmingham still refuses to give out attendance figures. The Barons city drew 124,000 paid attendances in 1912, when they won the pennant. Atlanta has 183,871, and a day yet to go in 1913.

It will take over 13,000 attendance today to break the league record for a season. Can we do it? We should worry!

SHOCK KILLS WIFE OF GEORGIA COACH

Electricity From Light Also Shocks Cunningham as He Goes to Her Aid—Was in Bath Room.

Athens, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. W. A. Cunningham, wife of Coach Cunningham, of the University of Georgia, was killed by an electric shock in the bathroom of their home of Cloverhurst street at 9 o'clock tonight.

She stepped into the bathroom for something and Mr. Cunningham heard her fall. He entered the room and found her unconscious. He was also shocked severely as he tried to turn on the light and from that shock discovered the cause of her death.

Physicians worked for an hour and there was at first a deep breath, but no other sign of life was noted. The cause of the heavy voltage on the incandescent light cannot be explained till further inspection of the outside wires and guys can be made.

Mrs. Cunningham was a Miss Ritter before her marriage, of Hopkinsville, Ky. Two little children survive her, a boy of 5 years and a babe in arms.

IF

If Atlanta wins from Chattanooga and Mobile loses to New Orleans both today and Sunday the standing will be:

Club. Won. Lost. P.C.
Atlanta..... 81 56 .591
Mobile..... 80 58 .579

If Atlanta wins from Chattanooga and Mobile breaks even in the New Orleans series the standing will be:

Club. Won. Lost. P.C.
Atlanta..... 81 56 .591
Mobile..... 81 57 .587

If Atlanta wins from Chattanooga and Mobile wins from New Orleans both today and Sunday the standing will be:

Club. Won. Lost. P.C.
Atlanta..... 82 56 .594
Mobile..... 81 57 .581

If Atlanta loses to Chattanooga and Mobile loses both games to New Orleans the standing will be:

Club. Won. Lost. P.C.
Atlanta..... 80 57 .584
Mobile..... 80 58 .579

And, of course, if old Jupiter butts in and rains out any of these excessively crucial games, that will be altogether a different story. For instance, suppose Atlanta and Mobile both won today and then the Sunday game in Mobile was rained out. That would leave the Gordian knot still uncut. Or two wins and a rainstorm. Or three rainstorms.

Anyway, if Mobile wants that pennant, they had still better make mighty sure of those two games with New Orleans.

By Dick Jemison.

Tied!

The Crackers and the Gulls, after the most sensational series of baseball ever staged in the south, are tied for the Southern league pennant.

The standing this morning is:

Club. Won. Lost. P.C.
Atlanta..... 80 56 .588
Mobile..... 80 56 .588

The Gulls have a game today and on Sunday with New Orleans. The Crackers wind up their series with the Chattanooga Lookouts at Poncey this afternoon.

A win for the Crackers today and a loss for the Gulls in either of the two games will give the Crackers the pennant. If Atlanta wins today Mobile must win both games from New Orleans to win the pennant.

One Game Finished.

Only one game was played Friday. Two were scheduled, but the fierce manner in which the two teams battled in the first contest, which went to extra innings before the Crackers won the verdict, forestalled any attempt to play the second game, though three innings were played.

It had been agreed upon to call off the festivities for the afternoon at 4:40 o'clock so as to allow the Gulls to catch the train that leaves here at 5:40 o'clock over the Atlanta and West Point for Mobile, where they play today.

When the first game was ended there remained but 50 minutes to play, and with some fifteen minutes of this time consumed in getting the jubilant crowd off the field, it was useless to even the start the game.

But it was started and three full innings were played when the time for stopping arrived, and, according to the agreement, Umpire Pfenniger called it.

Gulls Refuse to Stay.

President Frank E. Alloway, of the Atlanta Baseball association, and Preston Arkwright, owner of the franchise, realizing that it was useless to attempt to play, went to Manager Finn with the most liberal proposition that has ever been submitted to a visiting team.

"If you'll stay over and play out this game," said Mr. Arkwright, "I'll foot all expenses in chartering a special train."

Prisoners in Augusta Released When South Carolina Governor Refuses to Ask Requisition of Gov. Slaton.

Augusta, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Stating that Governor Cole L. Blease had refused Solicitor W. H. Cobb's request to draw a requisition on Governor John M. Slaton for G. W. Foye and Mrs. Martha Hamilton, of Columbia, Sheriff McClain, of Richland county, South Carolina, asked Chief George Elliott, of Augusta, in a long distance conversation this afternoon to release the prisoners, who have been held in Augusta two days and send the Columbia sheriff a bill for their board. The couple, both of whom are married, were arrested here when they stepped from a Columbia train at the telegraphic request of Sheriff McClain, and Chief Elliott was told an officer would come for them. The officer came, but the prisoners refused to go to South Carolina without requisition. Today Solicitor Cobb drew a request warrant on Governor Blease for the requisition which the South Carolina governor refused, on the ground that "this office and the office of the governor of Georgia are not in communication." This is the second time Governor Blease has made the same answer to request for requisition this week in cases of Carolina prisoners held on request of Carolina authorities in the Augusta city jail. No comment can be obtained from the governor's office in Columbia as to his disposition toward the requisition which Governor Slaton was expected to draw on him today for Moye C. Dowling, late of the defunct Citizens Trust company, but those close to the governor in South Carolina declare his attitude this week is "plain enough."

BABY'S TERRIBLE SKIN HUMOR CURED

Milk Crust Formed a Solid Seal, but Resinol Cured in Four Days.

Detroit, June 21, 1913.—"About a year ago my two-months-old baby was troubled with what they call milk-crusts. The lower part of his body was a mass of sores. It began with small pimples, then they turned to one whole scab. The scab would break open and then it would bleed. She suffered much, as she cried night and day. For one month I tried everything—all kinds of salves, but without relief, until I sent for a sample of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Upon the first application I noticed a change, and after four days my baby was entirely cured. I cannot praise your remedies too highly, and recommend them to all my friends." (Signed) Mrs. Henry Mosher, 154 Lawrence Ave.

You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It is a doctor's prescription, that has been used by other physicians for eighteen years in the treatment of eczema, ringworm, pimples and all sorts of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Practically every drug store sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. RICHARDSON ELECTED CREMATORY WEIGHER

Board of Health Prepares for Test of New Plant Next Week.

W. P. Richardson, who is now in the employ of the Terminal station, in the baggage room, was elected weigher of the new crematory, and F. H. Scheerer, superintendent of the old crematory, was offered the opportunity of a try-out for the place of engineer of the new crematory, at a meeting of the city board of health in the city hall Friday evening at 6 o'clock.

It was also decided that the board should be reported by Chief of the Sanitary Department John Jentzen at the official tests of the crematory which will be held next week, probably on Wednesday. Frank Lederle has already been appointed to represent the city at this test.

Near Split in Board. A near split was precipitated in the board, when Dr. Bradford objected to the form in which Mr. Ashley had presented the resolution in council asking the appropriation for conducting the test.

Mr. Ashley, it appears, had worded the resolution so that the money was to be appropriated for the purpose of getting a representative for the city to be present at the test, and had left the board of health out of the reckoning.

Dr. Bradford said: "The form of this resolution gives all the power to the mayor as to the appointment of the city's representative in the test. While I do not say that he would do so, I say that he could select a man who would render an unfavorable report upon the efficiency of the plant. It is a known fact that he has been bitterly opposed to the crematory ever since he has been in office."

Will Hold Mayor Responsible. Mr. Ashley explained that, while he had not intended to do the board an injustice, he was of the opinion that the city would hold its chief executive responsible for any inefficiency in the new crematory, and that, therefore, he should have the greatest authority in the selection of a judge of the test.

The salary of Mr. Richardson, as weigher, was fixed at $85 per month. Mr. Scheerer will be on the pay roll of the Destructor company until he proves his efficiency and is elected by the board to the position of engineer.

It is not definitely known, however, that Mr. Scheerer will accept the offer of a try-out, as it is understood he had been offered this opportunity by the Destructor company. He is said to have been waiting upon the sanction of the board of health.

ASKS BROTHER'S ARREST ON CHARGE OF THEFT

E. R. Elliott had several chickens stolen from his henhouse in the rear of his residence at 201 Mason and Turner's road for the past few nights. Last night, hearing squawks of distress, he got his shotgun and went to the back porch. Someone was in the chicken house. He raised the gun and fired. There was a rapid exit of a figure from the place.

The man ran full tilt in Elliott's direction. Jumping on the porch, he grabbed Elliott and attempted to get his wife, who came with a light. The light, it is stated, revealed Elliott's brother, W. J. Elliott, a man of 65, struggling for the gun.

Mrs. Elliott took hold of the gun and leveled it at her husband's brother. "Get away or I'll shoot a hole through you," she said, with which the man jumped from the porch and ran into the darkness.

William and Milam investigated the case, and were asked by Elliott to arrest his brother on sight, on charges of larceny and assault.

SHOWERS AND COOL FORECAST FOR TODAY

Atlanta had another touch of fall on Friday. The temperature of 40 miles or more than 79 degrees in the official thermometer of the weather bureau. There were cool showers for most of the day.

BUSINESS MEN DESIRE TO HELP CONDUCTORS BY GIVING THEM THEIR SUBSCRIPTIONS

"I Would Sooner Do a Street Car Conductor a Good Turn Than Any Man I Know," Says Well-Known Business Man, Speaking of Contest.

It is surprising how popular the street car conductors of Atlanta are, as a class. Many of the men may think that their hard work in the interest of the traveling public is largely unappreciated, but if they could hear the comments which are made by the business men of the city who have been approached for their views on the conductors' contest which is now running in "The Constitution" they would change their opinions.

"I believe," said one prominent retailer yesterday, "that the car conductors are, as a class, about the hardest working and most conscientious bunch of men we have in the city. They are always so unfailingly courteous and never seem to get peevish or irritated by the numerous difficulties they go up against in their daily work."

"Of course, I take The Constitution every morning, but I surely am going to subscribe for the next six months through my favorite street car conductor. No, I won't say who it is, but I can tell you that he is in this contest to the finish and that I will quite a few of us on his run who are pulling for him to win. We will do our best to help him."

Not Too Late to Start. That is just a sample of the way the business men of Atlanta regard the men on the rear platforms. You conductors certainly ought to work hard to win out in a popularity contest when the whole bunch of you are regarded in this way. It is no empty honor for a man to win out in a popularity contest in a class of good fellows like you are. Then, besides, there is that $100 in gold which is going to the winner. And that gold watch, everget, uniform, etc., which is going to the runners-up. Then you get a fair commission on every subscription you send in, anyway. Twenty-five cents for three months, with 35 cents for a six months subscription. Even if you shouldn't happen to win the first prize, or any prize at all, the commission is worth working for. A little extra money on the side like that comes in mighty handy to meet

HOWARD PUTS SHEARS TO THE HOUSE BARBERS

No Longer Will Hirsute Adornment of America Be Fashioned by Negro Artists.

Washington, September 5.—(Special.)—After six years of control over the hirsute adornment of statesmen, during which they trimmed the hair and whiskers of some of the nation's mightiest, the colored barbers to the house of representatives have been cut off the pay roll.

They were served with a pair of shears by a resolution offered by Representative Schley Howard, of Georgia. The resolution was kept. It was cutting off the pay of all the colored barbers instantly. Hereafter their places are to be filled with white barbers. These positions whether congress keeps or not.

The senate also passed a resolution to remove the colored barbers, but not the house. Representative Bell, of Georgia, also passed a resolution through the house causing the appointment of a democrat as superintendent of the house office building and requiring all other places now held by republicans to be filled by democrats. He proposes a clean sweep.

HOT SPRING SWEET BY BIG CONFLAGRATION

more pretentious residence and hotel district and at 9 o'clock the shifting wind threatened to carry the flames to the west and main business section. A supreme effort was made to divert the fire toward the suburb of South Hot Springs when it was apparent that efforts to control it would be unavailing.

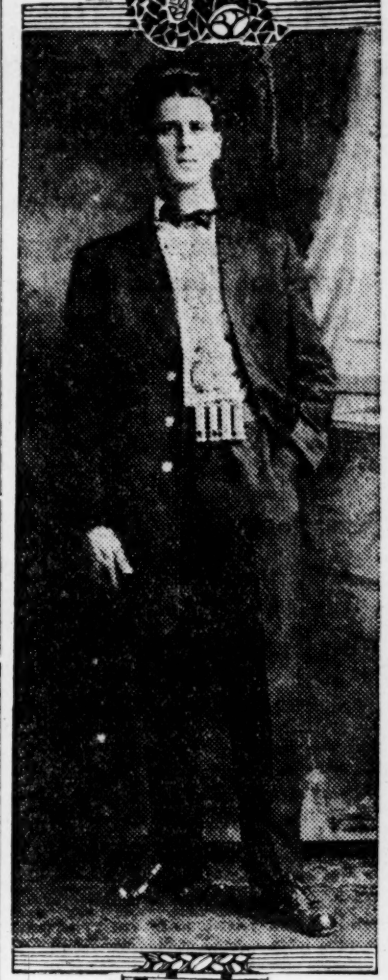

Among the buildings destroyed were the city's light, water and power plants, the county courthouse, the Park, Princess and Moody hotels, the city high school, Iron Mountain railroad station and shops, Ozark sanitarium, People's laundry, Y. Crystal theater and Bijou rink, besides a hundred or more smaller business buildings and many residences, including some of the best in the city.

No Fatalities Reported. No fatalities have been reported. Fifteen minutes after the fire started it was beyond the control of the Hot Springs fire fighting force and was asked of Little Rock. Spratus trains brought additional equipment, but the fire, dynamite and every available means of fighting fire has failed to check the flames six hours after the fire started. The firemen many times endeavored to destroy buildings yet untouched, but the flames swept over them and broke out in half a dozen other places.

Shifting wind currents changed the course of the fire three times. At times early in the night the gale reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour and three times the shifting wind currents changed the course of the fire. Twice it was headed for the main business district, the last time shortly before 3 o'clock, when, by the use of dynamite, the combined fire fighting force succeeded in diverting the course of the fire toward South Hot Springs.

BANDITS MAKE RICH HAUL FROM PAYMASTER

Three Armed Men Held Up South Carolina Man and Secure $16,000.

Columbia, S. C., September 5.—Three men, each armed with two revolvers, this afternoon held up two employees of the J. G. White Construction company and a deputy sheriff at Parr Shoals, twenty miles from here, and took from them $16,000 in currency which had been intended to meet the pay roll of the company, which is building a huge power dam there.

Tonight seven hundred employees of the company, together with the sheriffs and deputies of four counties with bloodhounds, are hunting for the robbers. J. C. Joyner, the deputy sheriff, reached for his gun and was shot, the bullet taking effect in the thigh. His wound is not serious.

The robbery occurred just after Paymaster Mahar, with Fred Bultman, assistant cashier, and Deputy Joyner had taken the money from the express office at Parr Shoals. To reach the construction company's office, where the money was to be distributed, they had to go down the railway track through a rather deep cut.

As the three were passing a box car which was standing on the railway track a trio of men, their faces blacked to disguise them, stepped out and covered the money-bearing party. Deputy Joyner reached for his gun and the robbers opened fire. Joyner fell, shot through the thigh, and the others, realizing the futility of resistance with their assailants in so strong a position, yielded. The robbers took the sack containing the money and made off into the woods.

The White Construction company has offered a reward of $600 for the capture of the three bandits, but so far the officers are without a clue.

ENGLISH COMMERCIAL NOW IN NEW QUARTERS

In order that this season's large enrollment may be properly cared for, the English commercial high school has moved from its old quarters on Washington street to the corner of Crew and Clark streets. These temporary headquarters will be used until a new building is erected. This building has been thoroughly remodeled, and all modern conveniences have been installed.

Rome Wants Hospital.

Rome, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—An movement is under way to erect a general hospital in Rome. A campaign to raise funds amounting to not less than $40,000 will start next week, and if it is successful it is expected that both city and county will make annual contributions to the support of the enterprise. The Floyd County Medical society met last night and endorsed the project.

According to a recent estimate made by the sugar bureau of the government of Taiwan (formerly called Formosa), the production of centrifugal sugar for the season 1913-14 will be 205,121 tons. This will be an increase of 100,000 tons over the crop of last year, which was partially destroyed by the typhoons of August and September.

Deposits of kaolin have been discovered in various districts in the state of Rio Grande do Sul. Samples of this clay have been sent to Limoges in France, where they have been analyzed and tested with such excellent results that this kaolin is considered equal to the Japanese now imported by Limoges factories.

15 VICTIMS CLAIMED BY ENRAGED TEACHER

German Town Scene of Terror While Man Supposed to Be Crazy Ran Amuck.

Muehlhausen, Germany, September 5.—Fifteen persons are dead here as the result of a school teacher named Wagner running amuck last night with several revolvers and a plentiful supply of ammunition. Eight persons died shortly after Wagner opened up his murderous fusillade and seven others of twenty wounded succumbed to their wounds. Four more persons are in a precarious condition.

Wagner previously had killed his wife and four children in the near-by town of Degerloch, and then came to Muehlhausen to continue his deadly work.

When Wagner finally was overpowered by infuriated townspeople, badly injured from blows from clubs and wounds from pitchforks, it was believed that he was insane. A commission of examining judges, however, after a lengthy hearing in which Wagner rationally answered all their questions, declared the murderer to be normal mentally.

COUP BY ATTORNEYS SAVES HARRY THAW

plained that he "had gone for a ride." His case is set for hearing before a magistrate tomorrow morning. Punishment on conviction of gambling on railroad property may range, at the discretion of the court, from a fine, amount unspecified, to a prison sentence, the maximum of which is one year.

In finding Thaw subject to deportation—a decision which was rendered after 4 o'clock this afternoon—the board of inquiry announced that Thaw entered Canada by stealth, contrary to the provisions of the immigration act; that Thaw has been insane within five years previous to the present date, and consequently comes within the prohibited classes mentioned in section three of the immigration act, which section provides that persons who have been insane within five years previous shall not be permitted to land in Canada, or in case of having landed in or enter Canada shall not be permitted to remain therein.

He was ordered to be deported to the state of Vermont whence he came to Canada. The board later supplemented its final announcement with this comment: "Immediately on the decision being rendered the board was served with notice of appeal in due form which will act as a stay of procedure until such time as the evidence has been reviewed by the acting masters of the interior and the decision of the board either confirmed or reversed."

Mountain express at Wallingford, 3 miles north of the wreck, was sent from New Haven and then rescinded. Was one feature of the testimony. This was told by John C. Kelly, the New Haven train dispatcher, who produced train sheets showing that the White Mountain express brought up the rear of a procession of six trains which passed Wallingford within 32 minutes. The first five of them Kelly testified, were on the 10-mile stretch between Wallingford and Air Line Junction, just north of here, all at the same time.

Rescinded Order. Kelly said he originally had given the order to stop because of the long time the first of the five trains took to reach Air Line Junction, and had rescinded it on receiving word from the Junction that the train had arrived there.

Flagman Larry, who, with Engineer Miller, was arrested last night by Corporal Mix and accused of "criminal" responsibility for the wreck, was released today on bonds furnished by order of Judge Elliott, of New Haven. Miller also is in bonded liberty.

Waycross Has Heavy Docket.

Waycross, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Unless most of the civil business is continued to another term of court the September session of city court, which starts here September 13, will be one of the busiest Waycross has known in a long time. Both civil and criminal dockets are unusually heavy now and more than a week will be required to clear them.

Boston, September 5.—The Buflach Place, a Roman church, one of the oldest church edifices in the United States, was swept by fire today, causing a loss of $50,000. The blaze looked so serious for a time that guests were routed from their beds in the nearby west end hotels.

Test Will Be Made of Line From Macon to Hawkinsville at an Early Date.

Macon, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Navigation of the Ocmulgee river from Macon to Hawkinsville will be a reality beginning September 9. A number of Macon business men have equipped a 29-ton gasoline boat with which to haul freight between the two cities and the first trip will be made on the date mentioned above. Leaving Macon on Tuesday the boat will return on Thursday and will maintain a regular schedule. This is done as a test to determine whether or not the boat line can be made a paying proposition. If so, then a number of other boats will be purchased and a $25,000 company formed.

Will Name Primary Date.

MACON HOMES ENTERED BY MYSTERIOUS MAN

Screams of One Young Woman
Arouse Family—Shot at Entering Another Home.

Macon, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Many Macon women are on the verge of nervous prostration, while the police are bending every effort to run down the culprit who for over a week has been entering homes at night. Last Tuesday night the intruder, a young white man, entered a Walnut street home about 10:30 o'clock in the evening while the young daughter of the household was preparing to retire. He grabbed the young woman about the waist. Her screams brought members of the household to her assistance and the young man fled. Wednesday night a young man entered the home of Charles A. Vent on Second street, but was frightened away by Mr. Vent's sister, who saw him just as he entered her bedroom. Thursday night the police received two calls. The first was from Heimath hall, where the matron reported that a young white man was prowling about the premises. He had gone when the police arrived. Two hours later a call came from the home of Policeman Stripling, on Plum street, where the same young man had broken open a blind and was preparing to climb in the window when a neighbor saw him and shot at him. The police have appealed to the women of the city to see that their windows are securely fastened before they retire at night.

DEVIL WOULD ENJOY WALK IN MACON, IS AINSWORTH'S BELIEF

Macon, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, former president of Wesleyan college and now pastor of the Mulberry Street Methodist church, announces that he will discuss Macon women and their manner of dress in lieu of his regular sermon Sunday. Like Dr. Len G. Broughton, who says the devil would have a picnic on Broadway in New York, Dr. Ainsworth thinks he would enjoy himself just as much on Cherry street in Macon any afternoon his satanic majesty should stroll down that thoroughfare.

Alleged White Slavers of Walker County May Face Federal Charges

Rome, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) The "white slave" cases which have attracted attention in Walker county will not be tried at the term of superior court now in session. By agreement between the federal and state judges over to the December term. The defendants, George Walker and Will Walker, farmers who are accused of having lured Susan Fricks, a 16-year-old girl, from her home for immoral purposes, have been released under heavy bonds. It is possible that the men will be tried in federal court before their cases come up in the state courts. They have laid themselves liable, it is alleged, under the United States laws when they attempted to send the little girl across the state line into Gadsden, Ala. Federal court meets in Rome in November, and it is believed that the United States grand jury will indict the men at that time.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS TO GO TO BALL GAME

After a brief session on Friday the grand jury returned fourteen true bills and adjourned in time for the ball game. The case of Jim Conley, negro sweeper at the National pencil company's factory, confessed accessory after the fact of Mary Phagan's murder, was not considered by the grand jury. Among the true bills rendered were the following:

Simpson Brown, colored, charged with the murder of Charlie Hill, colored.
Charles L. Smith, alias C. R. Smith, charged with bigamy, alleged plurality of spouses being Miss Gertrude Wilson and Miss Lennie Spain.
P. M. Christian, charged with simple assault upon a young girl.
W. K. Dunn, charged with using a black jack upon some newsboys in a recent disturbance.

MRS. CRAWFORD WANTS GRAND JURY TO ACT

With a view to getting at something definite in the case against Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, charged with having poisoned her husband, Joshua B. Crawford, her attorney, Burton Smith, has made a formal demand upon Solicitor General H. H. Dorsey, asking that the matter be brought to the immediate attention of the grand jury. No steps in that direction, however, have yet been taken.

FIGHT FOR DAUGHTER ON IN THREE COURTS

J. E. Barlow Is Seeking to Regain Possession of Child
From Her Mother.

A brilliant legal fight is anticipated next week when a writ of habeas corpus which has been taken out by Burton Smith, attorney for J. E. Barlow, the Stewart county millionaire, who is contesting with Mrs. Edith P. Barlow for the possession of their 10-year-old daughter, Madeline, comes before Judge George L. Bell. The taking out of this writ in Fulton county made the third simultaneous court proceeding instituted in the Stewart county circuit, where the decision of the ordinary awarding the child to the mother is contested, and in the American court, a part of Judge Littlejohn's circuit, where Mr. Barlow is charged with contempt of court. When the parents were divorced, some time ago, the courts awarded the daughter to the father, with the provision that the mother was to be allowed to have the child for reasonable visits.

Early one morning when Mrs. Barlow left the hotel, taking the child with her, Mr. Barlow believed that she was going to take the child away from him, and instituted proceedings in the ordinary's court. The ordinary's court reversed the decision of Judge Littlejohn, who awarded the daughter to the father, and placed the child then in the custody of the mother. The daughter is now with her mother in Atlanta, at 219 West Peachtree street. Moore & Pomeroy, attorneys for Mrs. Barlow, have instituted proceedings against Mr. Barlow in the American court, charging contempt of court. That Mr. Barlow placed his daughter in Candler college, in Cuba, for a year, thus depriving the mother of the privilege of seeing her daughter at reasonable intervals, according to the order of the court. The father's attorneys are Burton Smith and Little, Powell, Hooper & Gholstein. The mother's attorneys are Moore & Pomeroy.

ATLANTA SMOKE LAW NOW BEING OBEYED

Smoke Inspector Poole stated Friday that every concern within the half mile limit is now either complying with the smoke ordinance or making such arrangements as will bring them within the requirements of the law.

For some time the Grant building has been the only office building in the half-mile limit which was not complying with the ordinance. Work has now started on the new heating plant, as designed by Inspector Poole for that building, and will shortly be complete. The large majority of the buildings in the one-mile limit are also now complying with the ordinance, or so remodeling their furnaces that they may, says Mr. Poole. R. M. Harwell, president of the board, states that he has learned that there are several owners of apartment houses who are not entering into the plea which will be made before the board next Tuesday for a year's extension of time in which to comply with the ordinance, but who state that they are going ahead at once and make the necessary arrangements.

ASK CHICAGO TO AID LOCAL NEGRO SCHOOL

There will be an immense educational mass meeting at Bethel church at Thirtieth and Dearborn streets Sunday for the Atlanta Normal and Industrial Institute. All the negroes interested in the educational welfare of the negro boys and girls of the south have been urged to be present. Bishop Samuel W. Fallows has accepted the chairmanship of the meeting and will lend his aid in every manner to the practical education of the negro. WEST POINT OFFICES CLOSE FOR BALL GAME

The entire executive offices of the West Point road closed at noon Friday, to enable the officials and employees to attend the double bill between Mobile and Atlanta.

Large numbers of clerks were thus able to see the games. The offices to close were the auditors, where over half a hundred clerks work; the freight claim agent's, the general passenger agent's and the president and general manager's. These offices were also closed the opening day of the season to permit the employees to witness the opening fray between the Lookouts and Crackers. They will also be closed Saturday afternoon.

HOME COMING DAY TO OPEN FALL CAMPAIGN

The Bible school of the First Christian church, the largest school in Atlanta, and the winner of the famous contest between the Second Baptist and First Christian, at which time the First Christian school broke the world's record for attendance, is preparing for "home coming day" on Sunday, September 14, at which time it is expected at least two thousand scholars will be present. The meeting marks the opening of the fall campaign for new scholars, and an effort will be made to again break the world's record. The workers in the First Christian Bible school are actively at work, and as scholars belonging to this school are returning to the city daily, the crowd will no doubt take the seating capacity of the church.

NURSES GET CHARTER IN TUBERCULOSIS WAR

Judge Bell, of the Fulton county superior court, on Friday granted a charter to the Atlanta Anti-Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurses' Association for a period of twenty years. The petition stipulates that the organization will be without capital stock, and will not operate for gain, its object being a warfare upon tuberculosis. The petitioners for the charter are as follows: Hugh M. Wile, Howard S. Cole, Mrs. H. W. Salmon, Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, David Woodard, Mrs. J. Wade Conkila and Dr. Theo. Toepel.

TEXAS BANKER WANTED FOR BIG DEFTALCATION

$130,000 Shortage Reported in Accounts of State National Bank of Fort Worth.

Washington, September 5.—Defalcation of $130,000 in the State National Bank of Fort Worth, Texas, was reported today to Thomas P. Kane, acting comptroller of the currency, by National Bank Examiner Van Zandt. The shortage will not affect the solvency of the bank.

The bank examiner reported that the whereabouts of Vice President M. L. Woods were unknown. Comptroller Kane ordered that the facts be reported to the United States attorney at Fort Worth. The bank's surplus and profits amounted to $235,000, according to the last report of the comptroller. The bank's capital is $500,000.

Woods on Way to Fort Worth.
Fort Worth, Texas, September 5.—A telegram received by the state National bank from Dr. Baldwin Woods, at Berkeley, Cal., today said that M. L. Woods, vice president of the State National bank, is on his way to Fort Worth. Charges were filed against Woods August 29, alleging embezzlement of $5,000, and today another charge of embezzlement of $10,000 was filed. Officials of the bank stated that the shortage at first was shown by a balance sheet of $130,000. Suits have been filed against Woods to attach $18,000 of unencumbered real estate he owns. He is also under a $10,000 bond. Officials of the bank said they were not surprised at the announcement of Woods' voluntary return. He left several weeks ago on a vacation.

Woods, who sent the telegram, is professor of mathematics in the University of California.

Barred From Insurance On Life Since He Has Forgotten Date of Birth

Cordele, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Because he has forgotten the year and date of his birth and there is probably no source from which he can secure this information, a local Greek citizen is barred temporarily, if not permanently, from securing life insurance. It was the intention of the Greek to purchase a $2,000 policy from a local insurance agent, and it was not until he attempted to fill out the application that he discovered that his age had slipped his memory.

CONGRESSMAN WALKER CALLED TO VALDOSTA

Valdosta, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Congressman J. R. Walker, of the Eleventh district, accompanied by Mrs. Walker, who has been very ill at a sanitarium in Atlanta, reached the city this morning. Walker expects to return to Washington Saturday, in order that he may be there when the currency bill is put on its passage under the five-minute rule. Mr. Walker says the democratic administration is making a splendid record and that people in all sections of the country are confident that the democratic party will make good all of their legislative undertakings. The friends of Congressman Walker and his wife will be glad to learn that the latter is rapidly regaining her strength after a serious operation, and that she will soon be entirely well. She is now visiting in her former home at Madison, Fla.

ALABAMA GOVERNOR BACK AT HIS DESK

Montgomery, Ala., September 5.—(Special.)—Governor O'Neal returned to Montgomery Thursday after an absence of nearly two weeks, during which time he attended the annual meeting of the governors' conference at Colorado Springs and visited Denver, Chicago and other cities in the middle west.

The governor's attitude with reference to the senatorial situation will be made known when he has appointed Representative Clayton to fill the vacancy in the senate and he will allow himself to consider no other course unless the senate shall refuse to seat his appointee. But he does not believe the senate will take this action, believing that Representative Clayton will be seated within the next few weeks.

Tifton, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) John Young, a young white man working as switchman in the yards of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway at Tifton, had his knee caught between two cars and crushed last night. Young was riding on a box car and did not see the car which was approaching. When the two cars came together Young was knocked off and fell between them. This is the second time John Young has had within a few weeks. He had only been at work two weeks since recovering from the previous injury.

CHILD IS NEAR DEATH FROM EXPLODING ACID

Rome, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) The six-week-old child of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carpenter, of Lindale, lies at the point of death as the result of severe burns received when a corked bottle of disinfecting compound known as cresco, burst and scattered its contents over the child's head and body. The child was sitting with the mother on her lap near the bottle, which hung on a nail, and a careless passer-by knocked it down. It fell and burst, inflicting very painful wounds upon the child's head. The frantic mother could wash away the acids.

Albany Man Appointed.

Albany, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) J. S. Davis, of Albany, prominent in the lumber and banking circles of the state, has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Georgia chamber of commerce by C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, chairman of the committee. The appointment of Mr. Davis will be lined with interest by his many friends in the state who regard his appointment as a compliment to Albany as showing the part his home city plays in the work of developing the state.

SAY MACON SALOONS ARE "BLIND TIGERS"

Ministers Ask for Injunctions
Against 5 Near Beer Places.
Claim They Sell Whisky.

Macon, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) The second move in the campaign of the Law Enforcement league recently formed by the ministers of the city, was taken today when application was made for injunctions to restrain more near beer saloons from operating on the ground they are "blind tigers" and therefore a public nuisance. Judge Mathews set all five of the cases for hearing on the first Monday in November.

Those places against which injunctions have been asked are James and Dennis Cassidy, 454 Mulberry and 601 Broadway; A. D. Jones, 1402 Broadway; Sam Williams, 1204 Broadway; and G. M. Bass, 228 Cotton avenue. The sheriff raided all of these places and claims to have found whisky at the two Cassidy places and at the saloon run by A. D. Jones.

Uses Fists in Resenting Attentions to His Sister; Jury Justifies Assault

Rome, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) James Payne, a well-known Floyd county man, was acquitted in Floyd county today of a charge of assault and battery upon Kenny Vann, son of one of the county's wealthy families. Payne admitted that he had vigorously attacked and beaten young Vann, but brought forward as his defense that the youth persisted in attentions to Payne's sister, after the brother had warned him that they were unwelcome.

Vann's character was brought into issue, and the defense claimed that this was so bad that Payne was justified in ordering him to let the girl alone, and attacking him when he failed to do so.

SUFFRAGISTS INVITE JANE ADDAMS HERE

Many interesting reports were made and plans entered upon for increasing the usefulness of the association at the regular business meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association at Carnegie library Wednesday. Mr. Pound, proprietor of the Hotel Ansley, gave the association a most cordial invitation to hold all their meetings at his hotel, and at this meeting it was decided to accept it and the secretary was appointed to send him a note of thanks. The first public meeting to be held there will take place this month. The president, Mrs. Woodall, announced that the association would establish a bureau of information, also perfect a system of mail order department that would reach the women of city and county in their homes. This will encourage home study classes under the direction of the bureau of information.

An invitation has been sent Miss Jane Addams asking her to address the association in October and the public will be invited to hear her. Mrs. Ada F. Ralls, who has fitted up her home on Irwin street, near Jackson, for the use of girls who go out to work, announced that it was ready. She has named it "The Addams-Belmont home." It is to be a real home with reading rooms and music and entertainments. McLendon hall, within the building, for whatever use the association wishes.

NEW JERSEY ORGANIST PLAYS HERE SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Auditorium, Clarence Reynolds, official organist of the Ocean Grove, N. J., Auditorium, will give a concert to Atlanta's music lovers. Mr. Reynolds arrived yesterday from Ocean Grove where he held the position of organist for four years, playing to 10,000 people three afternoons of each week for three months every year. He spent some time Friday familiarizing himself with the immense Atlanta organ and after an examination declared it to be one of the most remarkable he had ever seen.

A well-balanced program has been planned for Sunday and several pieces of classical, as well as popular music, have been arranged for and it is sure that the program will please the crowds.

REQUISITION GRANTED FOR A. D. OLIVER

The governor yesterday afternoon granted a requisition for A. D. Oliver, alias L. C. Harding, who has just finished serving a term in the penitentiary for bigamy. Harding worked on the roads of Lee county.

He was convicted in Decatur county, where he made quite a reputation as a "get-rich-quick" Wallingford, having cleaned up $10,000 in a few weeks' time. He married a girl of one of the best families in southwest Georgia and it was for bigamy that he was sent to jail.

Before he was taken in Georgia he was charged with being an escaped convict from Mississippi and it was to serve out the balance of his term that the governor sent him back.

MRS. GODBEE IS READY, SAY HER ATTORNEYS

State Two Additional Killings
Will Not Affect Trial for Double Homicide.

Millen, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Attorneys for Mrs. Edna Perkins Godbee, who is charged with shooting to death her former husband, Judge Walter S. Godbee, and his bride, Mrs. Florence Boyer Godbee, deny absolutely there will be any postponement of the trial if the state announces ready next Wednesday. Attorney G. C. Dekle, the only one of the attorneys at Millen today, stated that on the contrary they were especially anxious to go on with the case and that the tragedy of night before last could in no way affect their case. The intense interest that centered about the new tragedy, in which Mrs. Belle Newton, pretty young divorcee, was murdered by Rufus Bryant, who sent a bullet crashing through his brain when carbolic acid failed to produce death has subsided and Mrs. Godbee's case again occupies the center of the stage.

A third tragedy occurred early this morning as a negro woman was murdered by her husband. The crime attracted unusual interest on account of the manner in which death was inflicted. The woman was found in bed this morning with a cord deeply imbedded in the flesh of her neck that had produced death by strangulation. With the three tragedies occurring in so short a while the city was in a tense state of excitement this morning when the report first spread of a third tragedy.

CAUCUS ACTION BRINGS BIG DROP IN COTTON

Upward Movement on Exchange Demoralized by Agreement to Tax Futures.

New York, September 5.—The announcement that the senate caucus had agreed to tax cotton futures one-tenth of one cent per pound was the signal for an outburst of selling orders in the cotton market this afternoon, such as rarely has been witnessed since the Sully days. It drove prices off fully $2 per bale and completely demoralized the upward movement.

When the news reached outside points there was a fresh wave of selling orders which came into the local market just at the close when the most violent decline occurred. For ten minutes after the close the quotation clerks were busy putting up sales that had been made at or before 3 o'clock and overlooked in the excitement.

It had been the expectation in local trade circles for some days past that the senate caucus would reduce the proposed tax rate, a fact which had contributed to the confidence of buyers on the recent advance of $12.60 per bale and today's reports seemed to revive apprehensions that the bill might yet be passed in its original form. The trade generally has expressed the belief that if the Clarke amendment should become a law without considerable modification, it would practically eliminate futures trading on the cotton exchange of this country.

"TURKEY TROT" BAN LIFTED IN ROME'S NINE O'CLOCK CLUB

Rome, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Rome's young society people can dance the "tango," the "trucky trot" and other modern dances at the functions of the exclusive Nine O'Clock German club next season, a privilege they have not heretofore enjoyed. The ban against the acrobatic steps has been lifted by the club, which found its dignified Germans deserted for the livelier gyrations of subscription dances and informal hops. When the "turkey-trot" was first introduced several months ago, a few enthusiasts danced it at the Nine O'Clock German. On one occasion the vim and vigor of a turkey-trotting couple caused them to collide with another couple, and one of the young women had two ribs broken. After this episode the governing board forbade the turkey-trotting and confined terphochorean endeavors to the waltz and two-step. At the reorganization of the club for the coming year, effected last night, the "turkey-trot-ticket" was elected, and lively times are anticipated during the coming winter.

ROME WOMEN MAP OUT WINTER'S CLUB WORK

Among the activities mapped out for the club during the coming winter are those of the committees on education, headed by Miss Madeline Wyly; on playgrounds, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Pitter; on social service, of which Mrs. Taul White is chairman; on conservation, headed by Mrs. John H. Reynolds; public health, Mrs. Robert Harbin; literature, Mrs. Sproul Fourey; art, Mrs. Paul Cooper, and sociology, Mrs. Hughes Reynolds.

SMITH FAILS IN FIGHT ON COTTON FUTURES TAX

The Return of Senator Newlands Brings Relief to Minds of Administration Leaders.

Washington, September 5.—Senator Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada, whose stand on the tariff bill had caused his democratic colleagues some concern, brought relief to the minds of administration leaders upon his return from the west today. The Nevada senator, though determined to make a fight within the party lines, assured his colleagues that he would stand by the bill as it reached the senate.

"I never have contemplated at any time making any fight on the tariff outside the party caucus," was Senator Newlands' statement tonight just before entering the democratic caucus. Having made progress in settling the income tax and cotton futures issues, senate leaders predicted that all amendments would be disposed of by tomorrow and that the bill would go to a vote Saturday night.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, said tonight that he would not seek to limit Senator La Follette in his discussion of the textile schedules and for that reason might not get a vote before Monday. Progressive republicans, it was said, were attempting to shape the final discussion so that a vote might be reached late Saturday night.

Future Tax Stands.
Senator Smith, of South Carolina, failed in the democratic caucus today to notify the proposed tax on cotton futures, the cause of refusing to reconsider its action approving the amendment proposed by Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, designed to curb gambling in cotton. The amendment as it stands places a tax of one-tenth of one cent a pound on all cotton sold for future delivery, the tax to be refunded when deliveries actually are made.

Income tax differences within the majority were settled with an amendment compromising between the highest rates on large incomes advocated by the original democratic "insurgents." Senators Thompson, Reed and Vardaman and the lower rates of the original bill.

In the senate Senator Brady, of Idaho, opposed free raw wool, as disastrous to the wool industry. He also criticized the proposed tariff rates on lead and zinc.

Labor Organizations Protest.
Senator Penrose discussed the provision which would admit cigars free of duty from the Philippines, contending it would let in the product of cheap labor to compete with that of American workmen. He submitted protests against the provision from labor organizations.

Work was resumed on re-committed portions of the bill, and Senator Williams submitted a substitute for the inspection provision. The amendment approved by the senate provides that no meat shall be imported unless certified to have been derived from animals free from disease, to be wholesome and fit for human food and to contain no poisonous or deleterious substances, preservatives, or other ingredients. It also provides that if the president should find that the system of meat inspection maintained by any foreign country is not as efficient as the system in the United States or that reliance may not be placed on foreign certificates of inspection, he may proclaim that no meat shall be imported from such country.

Senator Sutherland, of Utah, said he did not believe the cost of living would be appreciably reduced by the new tariff bill "unless it be by lowering the standard of living." He charged that the bill was sectional.

Atlanta Chamber Activities

"BOOST CITY," MOTTO OF DEPARTMENTS

Fred Houser, head of the convention bureau, has distributed to all tax and aid agencies in the city a multigraphed slip giving explicit directions how to reach the battlefields of Peachtree creek, Atlanta, Ezra church and the best road to reach the Cyclorama at Grant park. All of this information is contained in the booklet, "Historic Atlanta," which Mr. Houser is preparing for distribution at the annual A. R. encampment at Chattanooga the middle of this month. Mr. Houser expects that several thousand of the veterans will make the trip to Atlanta when the encampment is over, to review the scenes of the former battles and the city as it is today.

Atlanta Wants Road Congress.
Atlanta wants the fourth meeting of the American Road congress, and its 3,000 delegates, here, in 1914. Mr. Houser is pulling for the convention hard, and will attend this year's sessions at Detroit, Mich., September 29-October 4, and will present an invitation from citizens of Atlanta and the chamber of commerce. This convention is dealing with the problems of proper administration of public roads throughout the country, of construction and maintenance, and other questions which may be of practical aid to the betterment of good roads in America.

Interest in State Chamber.
The Atlanta chamber is arranging to have a big delegation to attend the meeting of the state chamber of commerce in Macon on September 16. President Wilmer L. Moore, acting Secretary W. H. Leach, and Fred Houser, with a number of the members of the Atlanta chamber, are trying to arrange their affairs so as to be present in Macon on that date. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Macon chamber of commerce, at 10:30 a. m. on the above date.

Leach Acting for Cooper.
During the absence of Walter G. Cooper, secretary of the Atlanta chamber, who is touring Europe for his health, W. H. Leach, head of the industrial and statistical bureau of the chamber, is acting in his place, as well as conducting the business of his bureau.

Arranging for Milk Meeting.
The pure milk supply committee of the chamber, Dr. S. A. Vasanaka chairman, is preparing for the big meeting which will be held in the interest of a pure milk supply for Atlanta in Taft hall the night of October 7.

Southern Preparing Atlanta Booklet.
The Southern railway is preparing an attractive booklet of Atlanta in connection with the great Shriners' convention which will be held in Atlanta next year. W. H. Leach, head of the industrial and statistical bureau, has supplied the company with a number of photos of the city, including the latest sky-line photograph taken a few days ago.

Special Rate to Macon.
The Southern railway will make a special rate of $2.50 per capita per round trip to Macon for the state chamber meeting on September 16. This will make it possible for a large number to attend. Among the parties going will be one of twenty-five from the Decatur board of trade.

Row Over Jail Ended.
Valdosta, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—A wrangle between the county commissioners, the contractors and the architect of the new $80,000 county jail over the holding back of part of the money for the concrete flooring in the jail, has been settled by the commissioners agreeing to pay the amount in dispute about $500. Itter & Co., the contractors, claimed that if the floor architect, as it was laid according to the specifications furnished, the contractors laid part of the flooring the second time, and after coating the entire floor with a composition for preserving it, the commissioners finally decided to pay the bill.

Meteor Arouses Cordele.
Cordele, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—An immense meteor, believed to be the largest ever seen in this section, created considerable interest among Cordele people at an early hour last night, and it was with consternation that some of the more superstitious of the colored population witnessed its flight. The luminous body, the head of which appeared to the naked eye as being larger than an ordinary cotton basket, and the tail more than twenty feet long, seemed to light up the whole southern horizon as it swept across the sky from east to west.

DUTCH SUPPER AT FALL INITIATION ENJOYED BY ELKS

At the first initiation ceremony of a series of fall meetings the members of Atlanta lodge No. 78, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, enjoyed a jolly Dutch supper Thursday evening at the lodge rooms on East Ellis street.

Seven initiates were led through the secrets of the order to the inner circle of brotherhood and good fellowship. The initiation was a pronounced success, being the first ceremony, however, that had been held in several months. Other initiations will follow within the next few weeks. Thursday night's meeting was one of the largest in attendance during many months, about 200 being present, and an increased enthusiasm being shown with the return of many wandering Elks from their summer vacation haunts.

AT THE THEATERS.
"The Call of the Heart."
(At the Lyric.)
Patrons of the Lyric will be pleased to note the return next week of last season's greatest success, "The Call of the Heart." The story of the play touches curious social problems, and is made to give a new and most attractive to the main idea, which concerns that all too common event of recent days, the joining of a good woman to one who is not only a good man, but a good man of the world for the sake of money, or position, and a title. How this match turns out, and the patience of the one who is so unkindly, perhaps not always studied or intended on the other, makes a most impressive drama.

Kelley Stock Company.
(At the Bijou.)
Jewell Kelley will present "The Man from the West" at the matinee this afternoon and night at the Bijou. This play has struck the popular fancy of patrons of the house and has pleased large audiences that have gathered nightly to see the famous actress. The next week will be a strong four-act comedy drama, "My Darling," telling a story of the Kentucky mountains with pure comedy characters and Kentucky romances. The story is strong in dramatic situations and there is lots of good comedy and a little bit of love. The play will be a success, and the actress will have one of the best of her career. The third week will open with the regular Monday afternoon matinee.

Emma Bunting.
(At the Lyric.)
The matinee and night performances today will include the engagement of Emma Bunting and her company at the Lyric. The sale of seats for both performances has been phenomenal, and the house will be in evidence. Emma Bunting is more chic and pleasing than ever, if such a thing were possible, and in "The Circus Girl" she has an excellent role, and wears some of the handsomest gowns that have ever been seen on an Atlanta stage. It is to be hoped that the clever little actress will visit Atlanta again in the near future, and she will always be sure of a warm welcome from Atlanta theatergoers.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)
There will be matinee and night performances today at the Forsyth, ending the week that has proven to be one of the most successful in the entire history of the busy theater. One of the headline features next week will be Frank Hale and his patter, conceded to be the greatest Turkey trotters and Tango dancers that have appeared on the public stage. The first appearance here of Lydia Barry, the queen of all singing comedienne, will help to make the bill an excellent one, and consequently, and will also appear the famous Belmont and Lee, the most wonderful of all aerial artists. A real novelty will be introduced by Bertha, a little company, including two sisters of Miss Wilson. These three young ladies are almost identical alike and there are many funny complications because of the remarkable resemblance.

Politicians Must Pay.
Waycross, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Both Waycross newspapers have shut out on writers of political communications, declaring in published notices that inasmuch as the fall campaign has opened all political discussion in print must be paid for in advance. Candidates are likewise warned that cash must accompany their announcements, as past experience has shown that defeated candidates with unpaid announcements will rarely want to settle up promptly.

Ferris Wheel Operator Hurt.
Euftaula, Ala., September 5.—(Special.)—Will James, operating a Ferris wheel and swing-jenny here, received serious wounds about the back of the head, when his coat tail caught in a cog and he was drawn into the machinery. Only the presence of a helper at the controls saved him from being whirled to death.

Starch Baths for Fatigue.
(London Co. New York Times.)
Starch baths are the latest "cure," having been introduced here from Paris. A society woman who is recommending her friends to try this latest idea describes the manner in which the baths should be taken. She says: "All you have to do is to buy a pound of ordinary pure starch from your grocer. Then dissolve the starch in a saucpanful of hot water and pour the solution into a well-filled bath of water at a temperature of 95 to 99 degrees, but not exceeding blood heat. Then to take the cure lie down flat in the bath—with all but the face and hair immersed—and remain there for at least 20 minutes. No more hot water must be added, or the beneficial effect will be considerably impaired. Paris is raving over the stimulating effects of such baths, which impart to the flesh a feeling as though one had bathed in rich cream. A starch bath is restful and soothing and does not leave a disagreeable sense of exhilaration for several hours afterward. If you feel limp or washed out the starch bath will make up your condition as the laundress does the laundry sheet. The starch is best taken before breakfast or before dressing for dinner."

A London doctor said that he quite believed that starch would have a soothing effect upon the skin—just as powder has. He added that there probably would be some danger of catching cold if a full half hour were spent in water of such reduced temperature.

Thaw.
(From Harper's Weekly.)
Our relations to Mexico interest many; so does the currency; a few care about whether we are retrograde in our treatment of foreign art, or about public affairs in Ohio or Alabama, or any state or city; but a wider appeal than in any of these things lies in the fact that a rich degenerate has escaped from prison, and being rich, will be able to occupy public attention some more.

Cotton is the chief crop of southern India.

In Berlin passengers often tip street car conductors.

Hungary exports much of its hay crop at $15 to $20 a ton.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON WAITS INCLAN'S ARRIVAL

Disposition Is to Receive Envoy Favorably—May Want to Float Big Loan.

Washington, September 5.—Development in the Mexican situation probably will wait the arrival in Washington of Manuel De Zamacona y Inclan, personal envoy of the Huerta government, to continue with the Washington administration the negotiations begun by John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico. Administration officials had not decided tonight whether they would receive senior De Zamacona unless he brought positive assurances of Huerta's elimination from the presidential election in Mexico and was ready to act upon the other points in the American proposals for the establishment of peace.

Some of the Washington officials feel that the United States has made its position sufficiently clear through the parleys conducted by Mr. Lind and the address of President Wilson to congress. There is, however, a disposition to receive senior De Zamacona in view of the courtesy shown Mr. Lind.

Senior De Zamacona's chief connection with the Mexican government in the past has been in financial matters, and his mission is said to contemplate not only the furtherance of the negotiations looking toward peace, but the bringing of positive assurances of Huerta's elimination from the presidential election in Mexico and was ready to act upon the other points in the American proposals for the establishment of peace.

COLLEGE PARK TRADE BOARD TO KEEP NAME
At the monthly meeting of the College Park board of trade Friday night, to decide a title for their commercial body and a slogan, it was decided to retain the above name. More than 200 suggestions had been received from all parts of America. The first prize of $12.50, which was to have gone to the one suggesting the best title, will go to the party suggesting the caption, "The College Park Commercial Assembly," which was decided second best.

The slogan selected was "A Bigger and Better City." A prize of $12.50 will be awarded to the party suggesting it. The names of the winners will be announced later.

OCRACOE UNSCATHED BY MIGHTY WIND STORM

Kingston, N. C., September 5.—Messengers from Beaufort over long distance that the population at Ocracoke and that the population at Ocracoke and Portsmouth were safe.

The two places, with a population of more than 1,000, were isolated on a long strip of banks bordering the seacoast and grave fears were entertained that they had been swept away by the storm of Wednesday. The 95-mile wind passed over Pamlico sound and directly past Ocracoke and Portsmouth, but failed to strike the beach. At Atlantic, a few miles south of Portsmouth, much damage was done, but no lives were lost.

Pamlico sound is reported strewn with wreckage of small craft, trees, dead animals, but no word of any lives lost has been received here.

Cracker Tie Gulls For Flag Lookouts Here Today Gulls Play Two Races Not Settled Yet

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

Local Baseball Season Will Come To Close Today When the Lookouts Meet Locals in Decisive Battle

TODAY'S MENU.
Dent and Chapman for Atlanta, Coveleskie and the Lookouts for Chattanooga. The game will start promptly at 3:15 o'clock.

The local baseball season will come to a close this afternoon. The Chattanooga Lookouts and the Atlanta Crackers will be the contestants. On this game the pennant hinges. If the Crackers win while the Gulls lose to the Pelicans, the pennant is ours.

If we lose, Mobile must also lose for us to stand a chance. If both the Gulls and the Crackers are returned victors, the pennant will be between the Gulls and the Pelicans. It will be a close race.

Must Win Today.
The Crackers have tied the Gulls for the pennant. Today's game must be won at any cost. It is up to you fans who have rallied so nobly to the team to stick with them again today. Every fan that was out Friday evening, let it be on hand again this afternoon.

Elliot Dent, the Crackers' big right-hander, who is now twirling his effective ball as any twirler in the league, will be Manager Smith's pitching dependence in this, the crucial battle of the entire season.

Dent is the man that the Crackers will place their dependence on to pitch them to the pennant, and, personally, he can carry our money.

Although Harry Coveleskie pitched five innings against the Pelicans Friday, it is Ellersfeld's intention, according to report from Chattanooga last night, to send him in against the Crackers this afternoon.

Pole Can Be Bent.
Now we put it up to you fans. Coveleskie can be beaten. The Crackers have done it, and they can do it again. But in this critical situation they need your help. The Pole may take an ascension at most any stage. Concentrated rooting will help him there quicker than anything else.

Yell "Shamokin, Pa." at him, and ask him about that girl up there. Then get busy with the old kettle drum imitation. He's sensitive about this. We want this game today, and you fans must help.

The victory today may spell the pennant for the Crackers. The New Orleans Pelicans are primed to fight the Gulls to the last drop of the hat, and they did momentarily in one game of the Mobile series, are gunning for these same Gulls.

Even if we win today and Mobile wins, too, we will still have the chance of winning out. In this event, the Gulls must be beaten Sunday in Mobile.

Team's Great Spirit.
The Crackers have fought a wonderful uphill battle. They are tied with the Gulls for the old flag. They ought to be one game ahead this morning. The local players have not cracked. They did momentarily in one game of the Mobile series, but they promptly found themselves again, and fought the Gulls to the finish.

Winning three games and tying one, when the other team had only to take one game to put your club out of the race for the pennant, is simon-pure nerve, nothing else, and even if we are eventually beaten out for the rag, you've got to hand it to Bill Smith.

and his Crackers—they're the gamest ball team that ever played baseball in the Southern League.

What a wonderful home-stay. The Crackers have to win today's game to make good the prediction of several fans at the baseball matinee, the last game of the last road trip. They predicted that the team would win 20 games of the remaining 26 to be played.

Home Record.
Twenty-seven games have been played. The Crackers won 19, lost 5 and tied 3. They opened up the home-stay very unimpressively by losing three, winning one and tying one to the Lookouts.

Then they won 3 straight from Birmingham, 3 out of 4 from Montgomery, 4 straight and a tie from Memphis, 3 out of 6 from New Orleans and 3 and a tie from Mobile.

Some record, and deserving of the highest praise and tokens of appreciation that a local public can shower on a team.

Go on out to today's game and get after the Pole and the Lookouts like you did the Gulls. You'll have several hundred Lookouts fans to drop. The Crackers are still fighting, and they're confident. They'll come through, and it will be all the stronger if you'll help.

Here is the probable batting order for the final game of the season:

Boston, Mass., September 5.—Only 1 run was scored in 19 innings of baseball between the Philadelphia and Boston teams today, the visitors winning the first game of a double-header, 1 scoreless tie when called on account of darkness at the end of the tenth inning.

The games developed two pitchers' battles. The first between Quinn, who joined the local National league club a few days ago, and Scatton for Philadelphia. It did not begin for an error by Maranville, Quinn would have shut out Philadelphia.

Chattanooga May Send Special Trainload Today

It was reported yesterday that the Chattanooga fans were going to run a special excursion to Atlanta today, in order to witness the final game of the season, and the game which will mean so much to Atlanta. The idea is that the Southern railroad will run the train direct from Chattanooga to the ball park at Ponce de Leon.

Chattanooga rooters will thus go straight from the train to the grandstand and it behooves Atlanta fans to be there in bigger numbers than ever, in order to be sure and witness the closing of these local Chattanooga fans.

They will be backing a ball team that is one of the hardest fighting teams in the league and the local fans should be certain they are there, every one of them, and make enough noise to entirely overwhelm these Chattanooga fans.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Red Sox 6, Athletics 3.
Philadelphia, September 5.—Boston's victory over Philadelphia here today by 6 to 3 was the third straight for the former in the series. The visitors overcame the lead which Philadelphia secured in the fifth inning by a batting rally in the seventh inning.

White Sox 1, Browns 0.
St. Louis, Mo., September 5.—The veteran Cicotte shut out St. Louis this afternoon while Chicago bunched two hits in the second inning for the only run of the game. Wilf Taylor, who received a trial with Chicago this spring, went to the mound for St. Louis and pitched a steady game.

Naps 7, Tigers 6.
Cleveland, September 5.—By means of a ninth inning rally, Cleveland defeated Detroit 7 to 6 today. Ty Cobb outbatted his rival, Joe Jackson, hitting a home run and an infield single while Jackson went hitless.

Senators Take Two.
Washington, September 5.—Washington took two of the hardest fought games of the season on the local ground from New York today by scores of 5 to 3 and 1 to 0. It took both of Washington's premier pitchers—Boehling and Johnson—to bring both ends of the double header to the locals, Johnson saving the day for his teammates, when he went in the ninth inning of the first game, after Boehling had weakened.

The second contest was a battle between Johnson and Ford from the start, with the odds slightly in favor of Johnson.

HARRY CHAPMAN.
The Crackers' peppery receiver, whose work in the game with the Gulls Friday was the best exhibition of baseball receiving that has ever been uncooked on Ponce de Leon field. It was Chapman's heady work, his backing up of first base, and his pegs to second that pulled the Crackers through. Defensively, he was the star of the game.

Harry Endicott Killed When Racer Throws Tire

Jackson, Mich., September 5.—Harry Endicott, of Anderson, Ind., brother of cott, of Anderson, Ind., a brother of "Farmer Bill" Endicott, the noted automobile racer, and Mary Sarata, were killed and three persons injured here this afternoon when Endicott's automobile crashed through a fence at the race track when one of the front tires blew up.

The injured are George Benedict, of Los Angeles, who was acting as Endicott's mechanic; Mrs. Mabel Walters, of Jackson, and Mrs. Walters, who was driving a 190-horse-power cutting car preparatory to an exhibition race against Benedict here tomorrow, when the accident occurred.

Benedict was at his side. The machine turned a sharp curve as it swung into the home stretch and, with a report like a pistol shot, the tire burst.

Before the crowd, which lined both sides of the track, could realize what had happened, the machine skidded about 20 feet, swerved and plunged directly at a flimsy fence to the side of the course. Endicott was crushed to death against the rear wheel and one of the rear wheels passed over his body.

The Sarata girl was instantly killed. The car bounding from a road scraper, crushed her to death in a twinkling. An inquest will be held here Tuesday.

McNeil Benefit Races.
Postponed Once More; Will Be Run Next Week

The motorcycle races last night for the benefit of Jack McNeil's family were postponed on account of rain. They will probably be run off Friday night of next week.

An agreement was reached for last night will be run off as the regular Tuesday night program and if it rains Tuesday night, they will go over until Wednesday.

Travers Plays Anderson.
Garden City, N. Y., September 5.—After a week of interesting play in the annual National amateur championship tournament at the Garden City Golf club the issue now lies between the present holder of the title, Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, N. J., and John C. Anderson, of the Braeburn Club of Massachusetts, former amateur champion of the Bay state.

Travers earned the right to be a finalist by winning his match today from Fred Herreshoff. Anderson qualified for the final by defeating Charles Evans, Jr., of Edgewater, Ill., the runner-up last year to Travers. Anderson's golf all through the week has been very steady, each round being done in 78 or better, so that his defeat of Evans today was not unexpected for the conservative element.

Chattanooga to Have Fair.
Rome, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—Residents of Chattanooga county have organized a fair association and will hold a county fair in October, N. K. B. ting, of Summerville, was elected president; Wesley Shropshire, vice president; and general manager, and C. P. Neal, secretary and treasurer.

Crackers Tied With Gulls For Southern League Rag; Won Only Game Played 6-5

cial train to get your team in Mobile in time for the game tomorrow."

Finn refused to listen to this, and insisted on catching the train as per schedule.

In this Finn was technically right. He had everything to lose and nothing to gain. He had - tie clinched and from his viewpoint, taking advantage of the technicalities before him was the proper stand.

But from Atlanta's viewpoint, and, of course, this is ours, the Gulls showed the white feathers. Finn knew that the Crackers had them on the run, and that the playing of the game would mean that they lost first place in the league race.

They took advantage of the technicality. They grabbed at the drowning man's straw. They had a perfect right to do so, but if they eventually beat the Crackers out they will have this hanging over their heads all the time.

Next season, if in view of Friday's actions, the Gulls do win the pennant, they will be dubbed "quitters" throughout the entire circuit.

Record Crowd.
The crowd was variously estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000 persons. The paid admission receipts show 12,140, with the total admission, according to the turnstile count, including ladies' day tickets, 15,812.

This breaks the southern league record, which is 11,152, which is also held by Atlanta, and was made in 1907.

There was a crack in the right field fence and the fans just poured through this crack and climbed over the fence on all sides when in the rush to get through the turnstiles they were unable to make progress.

There must have been 5,000 additional to climb over the fence. The stands and bleachers were packed and all around the playing field, twenty to thirty deep, they were lined. The banks were packed. In every available spot that did not interfere with the play of the game had its hundreds of fans.

Even the players' benches were not immune. The players were forced to sit on the ground in front of the bench to make room for the fair fans that packed into the benches.

In this connection an amusing incident occurred.

Ball players love to cuss when in the heat of a battle. Seeing the ladies, Bill Smith told them that they would not be responsible for the kind of language used.

That's all right, Mr. Smith, they answered a fair fan. "I don't care what the boys say as long as they win." She was cheered to the echo by the local boys.

Another Fierce One.
The game was a repetition of the previous one. It was one of those nip-and-tuck affairs, with the tension through this crack and climbed over the fence on all sides when in the rush to get through the turnstiles they were unable to make progress.

The Crackers fought confidently and courageously. The Gulls fought none the less courageously, but not as confidently, as they had their backs to the wall and they had everything to lose and nothing to gain.

The Gulls made no less than eight errors during the pastime and it is surprising that the Crackers did not pile up a larger score than they did. The one error that the locals made gave the Gulls their first run and paved the way to their second.

It was a brilliant game in spots, as brilliant in spots as it was putrid in others. It was one of those games such as the fan flock never sees but once in a lifetime.

Friday's game added another to the list of great games. The tension could not have been any tighter than it was in the entire series. It was really wonderful under the terrific strain that the two teams were laboring that they did not crack worse than they did.

Cavet and Price.
Pug Cavet and Gil Price, who hooked up in the first game of the series, tried conclusions again in this game. And from the jump it looked like the Crackers' ball game, only to find the Gulls rallying towards the close and forcing the locals into extra innings.

Cavet pitched the entire ten innings for his club, and although the locals nicked him for eleven bingles during the engagement, but for the horrible support given him he would have put up a much better fight.

Gil Price was breeding along for the first part of the game and his teammates got him four runs. But this did not seem to deter the Gulls, who were fighting, and fighting grimly. They grabbed off a couple of runs in the fifth and with the score 5 to 2 against them rallied and tied the game in the seventh.

Price sprung a wild streak in the seventh. He could not stop his fast ball through the groove like he wanted to, and he had the bases full before he realized what happened. Then bing and the game was tied up.

Elliot Dent twirled the remainder of the game for the Crackers, and believe us, that big boy had something on that old apple all the time. The Gulls gave us heart-failure in Gulls were like babies before his masterful pitching.

Chapman's Great Work.
Harry Chapman's catching was the greatest piece of defensive work ever performed by a ball player on the local field, no matter what his position.

Three times he backed up first base on throws to that bag and when one of them got away, he drove Charlie Starr back to the bag, and no one in the field knew that Chapman was there until they saw the ball go hurtling back to the old bag.

He caught a great game back of the platter, holding up his pitchers throughout and keeping the entire team infused with pepper all the way through.

If anyone is entitled to saving that old ball game, Chapman should be the one to be handed the palm, for it was his deadly pegging with Bisland and Smith on the receiving end of the throws that pulled the Gulls out of the hole in the ninth inning, when we felt the game slipping.

Two great one-handed stops and throws by Bisland on balls that were labeled safe, a great one-handed stab by Smith, and Welch's hitting were the other features from an Atlanta standpoint.

Start Scoring.
The Crackers started scoring in the first inning. Asler was out on a hard-hit grounder to Stock, who made a beautiful play on the rap. Tommy Long popped a high foul, which Schmidt dropped. Then Rabbit got a free ticket.

Welchence beat out a tap to Stock. Smith forced Welchence at second. The double steal was put on. Schmidt had Long at the plate, but Rabbit knocked the ball out of his hand, and he counted, Smith going to third, from where he counted on Bisland's screamer to left field.

The locals got a couple more in the second stanza, and it began to look like the Crackers' ball game. Nixon opened the inning with a single to center. Chapman hit to Stock and beat it to first for a safe rap. Price sacrificed them both up a base.

Agler hit a short fly to center field. Robertson made a nice peg to the plate, but Schmidt booted the pill and Nixon came in, Chapman going to third, from where he counted on Long's single to left field.

The Crackers threatened in the third, fourth and fifth, but could not get any across, but the Gulls got across a couple in the fifth.

Miller was hit by a pitched ball. Cavet tried to left. Long made a throw past third into the overflood crowd and Miller was permitted to score. Cavet going to third. He counted on Odell's single. Bisland making a great play on Paul's tap over the bag.

The Crackers got one of the two back in the sixth. Holland hit to Stock, who booted. Nixon popped a hunt to Cavet, who, in his hurry to double Holland at first, threw the ball to right field and Holland rapped to third, from where he counted on Chapman's sacrifice fly.

Gulls Tie It.
The Gulls tied it up in the seventh. Miller, who has been the biggest thorn in the Crackers' side in the entire series, started the inning with a single. Cavet sent him to second on his infield out. Then Price lost control and walked Stock and Starr, filling the bases.

Odell fit to Smith, who made a wonderful one-handed stop back of first base, retiring Odell at the initial cushion, but Miller scored on the play.

Ground rules were responsible for the Gulls tying it. Paul hit an ordinary high fly to right field which Nixon could have caught with ease, but he had to stand still and watch the ball drop into the crowd for a three-base hit, and Stock and Starr counted with the tying runs.

The Crackers had a chance in their half when Smith got an infield single and was sacrificed to second, but he was left there by Holland and Nixon.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building.

Prospects for a rushing fall business in the real estate field look good, according to local dealers, and especially by the number of inquiries and the prospects in sight, a revival of building should be experienced in the next few months.

One indication that leads to this is the fact that purchasers of lots in subdivisions opened four or five years ago, who bought on easy terms, have paid for these lots by this time, and are figuring on building.

There are any number of contractors in the city who make a specialty of building homes on easy terms. Many of these have had a number of inquiries lately as to the erection of homes at a medium price.

Renting Agencies Busy.
Several of the prominent renting agencies are busy at the present time, arranging for late fall leases. Those in charge of the new apartment houses opening in the near future are especially busy. Better prices are being obtained for apartments than in some time, it is said, owing, no doubt, to the modern improvements installed in all the late structures.

First Presbyterian Plans.
The board of deacons of the First Presbyterian church are still discussing the disposal of the church property on Marietta street. At present they are still holding out for $150,000, or $2,000 per front foot. Several attractive offers at around $135,000 have been made, but were refused. It is thought that at the next meeting of the board some definite action will be taken.

Building Permit Granted.
Mrs. A. H. Fuller has been granted a permit to construct a two-story brick store at No. 5 West Fair street. The cost will be approximately $2,700.

NEW HEAT RECORDS ARE ESTABLISHED IN WEST

Kansas City, Mo., September 5.—New September heat records were established in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma today and unusually high temperatures prevailed in Missouri. In Kansas the average maximum temperature was well above 100 degrees. At Junction City the mercury climbed to 108, within a degree of the season's record. A new heat record for the year was established at Lawrence, where the government thermometer registered 105.1-2. This was the hottest September day on record at Topeka, the temperature there showing 102. The danger of fire is so great that the Union Pacific railroad is burning every tuft of grass and brush along its right-of-way in Kansas.

RICE TELLS WOMEN ABOUT USEFUL BIRDS

Henry Rice, field agent of the Audubon society, made a brilliant address last night before a large audience at the Atlanta Woman's club on "Useful Birds of the World." Mr. Rice was given the closest attention at all time, and his address was pronounced one of the most interesting heard this year. He has sent a letter to The Constitution in which he declares that his speech on Thursday night was inaccurately reported where he was quoted as terming feather dealers "grafting inhuman brutes."

School Opening Delayed.

Waycross, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—The public schools of Waycross will be opened September 22 instead of on September 15, as decided by the board of education in June. Registration of pupils will begin September 17 and Superintendent Miller has made preparations to handle this feature of the school work with ease.

FOURTH GIN ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL ONE

Dublin Man Dies From Injuries. Three Others Hurt During the Same Week.

Dublin, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—H. D. Temples died last night from the effects of wounds received in the fourth gin accident here, in which his arm was horribly mangled and he was injured internally. Mr. Temples was removing some seed that had gathered inside the gin near the saw and in some manner his hand reached too close and was drawn into the rapidly revolving saws. His entire arm was cut and lacerated, the left side of his face badly gashed and the saws cut into his body near his heart, severing the cords and muscles around that organ, which was the direct cause of his death. Every effort was made to save him, but nothing could be done. He had been a resident of Laurens county for about eight years, coming here from Johnston, S. C., to take a position with B. M. Grier, who is sheriff of the city court of Dublin. He leaves a wife and several children. The first accident happened Monday afternoon, when W. R. Arnold, superintendent of the Empire Cotton Oil Mill, had his arm cut off by a gin that he was repairing while it was in motion. His arm was caught by the machine, and this pulled him into the gin before he could help himself, his right arm getting so badly mangled that it was necessary to amputate it above the elbow. Both men have families.

At the same mill where Mr. Arnold lost his arm and during the night of the same day, two negroes were injured by accidents, one of them getting his hand mangled into the cake former, and the other being hit by a belt breaking near him.

Quite a good many cattle in yards this week. Receipts consisting mostly of mixed cars from Georgia points, although there were a couple of loads of medium cattle from Alabama and about three loads of fairly good stock from Tennessee. A load of 900 to 1,000 pounds short horn steers topped the market, a mixed load of good weight hogs and cows filling second place. Market has ruled practically steady on the better grades, including best grass stuff. Light common stuff seemed plentiful and prices on this class

Welchonce Breaks Record For Hits Made in Season

Harry Welchonce, the "Crackers" heavy hitter, got three hits in five times up in the game with Mobile Friday afternoon and ran his string of hits for the season up to 192, according to unofficial figures as compiled by The Constitution's sporting editor.

As far as can be ascertained, The Constitution has Welchonce credited with only one more hit on the season than the official figures will show when they are issued, so officially, he will break the record if he gets one hit today.

The Southern league record for the number of hits made in a season was 191, made by Frank Huelsman in the season of 1911 when a member of the Shepheard team. The last time that Huelsman was in Atlanta was as a member of the Mobile team a few years ago.

Welchonce closed the gap on Dave Robertson for the league batting honors. But one point now separates the two star hitters, with Robertson still in the lead.

Here is the way the two star hitters stand today:

Player: G. A. B. R. H. P. C.

CRACKERS TIED WITH GULLS FOR LEAGUE RAG

the ninth. Cavet led off with a single. Dent had assumed the pitching burden at the start of the eighth. Dent then walked Stock. Cavet was playing too far off second on Starr's attempted sacrifice, and Chapman, with the bag of a rifle shot, nipped him off the bag. Bisland making a nice touch-out.

Dent and Chapman outscored Stock trying to steal, and a beautiful peg handled by Smith got him going down, and the bases were free again. Starr was given a free ticket, but Odell popped to Holland.

Crackers Win It.
The Crackers won it in the tenth. Wallop Smith, who has been playing this series when he ought to be in bed owing to horrible charley horse, started the work.

Welchonce had gone out, when Smith got one square on the nose, polling it on a line into the crowd in deep center field for three bases. It was as clean a home run as was ever hit, but the ground rules "ave him only three bases.

Schmidt and Cavet held a consultation, and it was decided to walk Bisland, who has been hitting like a fiend in the plaches. He stole second unhindered, the play being made for Harry Holland.

Bill Smith outscored them and sent in Frank Manush to hit and Frank proved the hero of the hour. He fouled off a million and every one began to get nervous. Fly to the outfield was all that was necessary.

Manush got it.
So anxious were both Robertson and Clark to get the ball that they banged together after it and it fell safely to the ground. Had either held it they would never have gotten Smith at the plate.

Crowd Parades.

Pandemonium reigned.
The fans swarmed all over the field. They hollered themselves hoarse. The brass band paraded all over the field with thousands of the fans snaking it behind them. It took several minutes to get them off the field, so great was their delight in tying the Gulls, coming from behind in the wonderful stern chase.

The second game was started at 6 o'clock. Carl Thompson and Bradley Hogg were the twirlers. These two boys had battled before when the former was twirling for the University of Georgia and the latter for Mercer university.

They only had to battle three innings, when the game was called. Thompson did not yield a hit. Carl showed more stuff than he has ever shown. Three of the nine men to face him went out by the strike-out route. Hogg allowed two hits, a single by Long in the first inning, and a double by Agler in the third.

It was a jubilant crowd that boarded the street cars and they ragged the Mobile players about their being afraid to play the Crackers.

It was a great wind up to the most sensational series of baseball that has ever been played in Atlanta.
The first game was easy. The second had to be pitched in the ninth, after the Gulls had tied it. The third was tied by the Gulls in the ninth, after the Crackers had apparently sewed the game up, and the fourth was won out by great batting.

Interest in Public Utilities.

(Hammond Vinton Hayes, in the September Number of The North American Review.)

The users of a utility are in reality partners in the enterprise, their money is invested in it possibly to an amount equal to that of the stockholders; the users obtain no direct return, to be sure, but indirectly they do obtain a return through the lower rates paid for the service used brought about by their investment. Again, it would seem as if the best interest of the users was subserved by making the investment of the stockholders as small as was consistent with the requirements of successful financing of new securities.

Thus a public utility may be looked upon as a form of mutual company. But it is a mutual enterprise only to the limited extent. New money will have to be raised by the undertaking from time to time to pay for the replacements which may become necessary by reason of the obsolescence, or inadequacy of portions of the plant. This new money virtually replaces the funds, given by the users for that purpose, which have been diverted from their original purpose but have been disbursed in a manner beneficial to the users. This new money will be less each year than the amount received from the users for depreciation reserves, owing to the rapid increase which has taken place in the value of the plant. This new money must be raised from those who have money to invest, and cannot be obtained from the users. It is this necessity of constantly raising new money that, with most large public utilities in this country, makes it imperative that a sufficient return should be received to induce capital to enter into a class of investment which has practically no speculative value. The responsibility for new financing is upon the stockholders; the responsibility of maintaining the value of the securities of the undertaking is upon the users and can be discharged only by the acceptance of rates sufficiently high to pay not only the annual charges, but a fair return upon the stockholders' investment.

It is this community of interest between the users of utilities and the stockholder that makes the supervision of public utilities by public-service commissions of a fair and impartial character so desirable.

Call Main 5000 Today And Get Baseball News

Call The Constitution, Main 5000, today and ask, "What's the score?" The score of the game between Atlanta and Chattanooga at Ponce de Leon, and that of Mobile and New Orleans at Mobile, will be promptly and cheerfully given. Fans are requested to use only the three words, "What's the score?" and the ring off, in order that others may enquire. Though more than 10,000 calls were received at this office during the progress of the games yesterday, there were numerous complaints from parties who were never able to reach the office by phone. If all follow these simple instructions, every fan in the city may get the information desired. The score of each game will be posted in front of The Constitution during the progress of the game today and each play in detail will be announced through megaphones.

What's the score?

According to officials, never in the history of the Southern Bell company did so many calls go over one wire, or one private exchange, as yesterday, when more than ten thousand people called The Constitution to inquire about the games at Ponce de Leon.

From 1:30 o'clock to midnight, the seven main trunk lines of The Constitution were kept wide open, and seven operators were kept busy for five hours telling of the progress of the game to Atlanta fans who could not get to the game.

The calls came in so thick and fast that finally, in desperation, the main office operators began to switch as many as six people on one line at one time. From that time on the Constitution's seven operators were kept busy repeating the score. While one person was asking for the information, at least five others were listening to the operator's answer. And the calls on the Standard phones were extremely heavy, also.

Owing to the tremendous number of calls received, the reporters and others having business with the various offices of The Constitution were unable to reach their respective heads of departments. All that they could get out of the operators was "Atlanta won the first game, 6-5, ten innings," etc.

Finally, in desperation, they gave up hope of reaching the office at all during the hours of the games.

Fans who phone today are urged to say only three words to The Constitution's operators—"What's the score?" In answer, the score of both the games in Atlanta and Mobile will be promptly given. This request is made in order that every fan in the city of Atlanta may reach The Constitution.

As it was Friday, many unconsciously took up much valuable time following The Constitution to inquire about the games at Ponce de Leon.

During the progress of the games Friday hundreds of cheering fans in front of The Constitution building watched the scoreboard with eager interest. At the same time a megaphone service was used, giving each play made in detail.

Crackers' Fund Is Growing; May Be Presented Today

The purse which is being raised to be presented to the Cracker players, to be divided equally among them, is still growing. Several large subscriptions came in last night, and a number of others have signified their intention of sending in their checks today.

On account of the wonderful fight which the 1913 Crackers have put up, and the way in which they have placed Atlanta once more upon the baseball map, it has been decided to give them this purse—win, lose or draw.

The presentation may be made some time today, probably at the game this afternoon. This has to be done, in order to let each man be there when it is divided, as a number of the players leave for their homes on Sunday.

Mr. Montgomery, of the Coca-Cola Bottling works, who is out of the city at present, wired yesterday to put his company down for $100.

Lee Hagan, of the Red Rock company, personally subscribed $25, and several other prominent business men stated that they would send in substantial checks today, but would not state what the amounts would be.

To date, the list stands as follows:

W. L. Cain		$93.25
W. L. Cain		50
R. W. Bean		1.00
Cash		25.00
Coca-Cola Bottling company (by Mr. Montgomery)		100.00
Total		$431.03

A. A. C. Golf Championship Starts at East Lake Today

The golf tournament for the championship of the Atlanta Athletic club will be started this afternoon over the course at East Lake, with the qualifying round and fifteen holes being scheduled for the day.

The players will qualify from scratch and as many flights as fill will be played.

Match play in the first flight will be from scratch and club handicaps will apply in all the other flights.

The first and second rounds of match play must be played by September 11, the semi-finals by September 13 and the final by September 15.

The flight finals will be thirty-six holes and eighteen in all the others.

Other game, but the spitballer was used in three innings today.

Either he or Walker will be used Sunday. Frank is confident that one of these pitchers will win a game from the Gulls, leaving it up to Atlanta to win Saturday's game from Chattanooga.

Sudden illness of Floyd Kroh, Chattanooga's pitcher, permitted one section of a country to oppose or thwart the will of the rest, seems like governmental chaos, and the impression persists that somehow California might be overruled.

It is therefore the most irritating that could be devised. Exclusion would be played. Match play in the first flight will be from scratch and club handicaps will apply in all the other flights.

Letton's Fame as Entertainer Proved at Banquet to Press

"An honest tale speeds best being plainly told."

This quotation from Shakespeare appeared upon the menu at the dinner tendered the Atlanta press at the Letton hotel by its manager, J. F. Letton, Friday night.

The honest tale of this dinner beggars high-flown words, and compels to the plain telling. Wherefore, speaking plainly, the dinner at the Ansley was by far and away the most tasteful, gracious and hospitable affair at which the newspaper men of Atlanta have had the honor of being guests in a very long while.

If there was one detail of menu, cuisine or entertainment which would add to the pleasure of those present, Mr. Letton did not forget it. If by the nicest point of taste the elaborateness of the dinner could have been overdone, Mr. Letton eliminated it. If there was ever a host perfect, Mr. Letton was the incarnation.

Mr. Letton Scores.

Mr. Letton is a new-comer to Atlanta, but his fame as an entertainer had preceded him, wherefore surprises were anticipated; but Mr. Letton's ingenuity as a host and entertainer surprised even the keenest anticipation.

When Mr. Letton ushered the newspaper men into the Georgia Pine room of the Ansley, where the table was spread, the room was beautifully decorated. Prominent among the decorations was a flowery bower in the end of the room, behind which the orchestra played. Hardly had the guests been seated when a heretofore unobserved window in the bower opened, and Mrs. Frank Pearson, whose beautiful voice is well known, appeared and sang several solos. The musical program was elaborate, including everything from grand opera to ragtime. A unique feature was an extremely natural photograph record of a solo by Titta Ruffo, from the prologue of "Pagliacci," with a real live orchestra accompaniment. The effect was startlingly deceptive.

The lights were turned off, except for the soft glow of the candles on the table, and mammoth steaming dish after dish, sometimes so large that several servants were required to bear them into the room, were brought to the table, each in fantastic design and illuminated in striking electric displays.

Has Caught Atlanta Spirit.
After the dinner, Mr. Letton thanked the press for being present, and expressed his appreciation of its co-operation in warm terms. He said that while he had been in Atlanta, but a short while he had caught the spirit of the "Atlanta spirit" and offered the newspapers every help in advancing the fame and interests of the city.

Governor Slaton, who was unavoidably detained from attending the dinner, was represented by his executive secretary, Major Hardy Ulm, who conveyed the governor's regrets.

Mr. Letton was thanked for his courtesy and offered every good wish and co-operation for the success of his hotel by Major John Cohen, of The Journal; H. M. Schraudenbach, of The Georgian; and W. L. Halstead, of The Constitution. Fred Houser, of The Hotel Journal, and T. R. Bankston, of The West Point News, of West Point, also spoke.

The occasion closed by Fred Houser leading the appropriate refrain: "They say, Mister Letton, he ain't got no style, But he's style all the while, all the while."

Guests of Mr. Letton.
The following guests were present: Major Hardy Ulm, executive secretary to the governor; W. L. Halstead, Constitution; Fred Houser, of The Hotel Journal; and T. R. Bankston, of The West Point News, of West Point, also spoke.
